BOBBY DRISCOLL AND FRIEND ARRESTED

Police Accuse Driscoll in $450 Office Burglary

LOS ANGELES, (UPI)—Police said they would seek from the district attorney's office today a formal burglary complaint against former child star Bobby Driscoll and his girl friend.

Driscoll, 24, now a construction laborer, was arrested yesterday with waitress Suzanne Stansbury, 24, on a charge of stealing $450 in cash and checks from a veterinarian's office.

Police said they traced the couple through an auto license plate number supplied by a passerby at the theft scene.

Driscoll and Miss Stansbury were picked up at Miss Stansbury's Malibu home. Police failed to find any of the loot, and both of the suspects called their arrest a "bum beef."

"I work with my hands now but at the moment I'm unemployed," said Driscoll. "I just signed with a new talent agency last week but I guess they'll dump me after this."

Driscoll, who won a special Academy Award in 1949, had feature roles as a child in such films as "Song of the South" and "Treasure Island."

Last Oct. 13 he was fined $52.50 and placed on probation for disturbing the peace when he slugged another man with a pistol. On two earlier occasions he was arrested on narcotics charges, but was never convicted.
